In view of newly cited references, the prosecution of this application has been reopened.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hobson et al (Des. 344,167) in view of Capelli. Capelli shows all the structures of the device as recited by the claims except the partition. The apertures of Hobson et al fall within the claimed range. Capelli shows a clothes hamper with removable partition. It would have been obvious to provide the hamper of Hobson et al with removable partition so that it may separate the clothes according to color as taught by Capelli in order to enhance the handling process.
